REVIEW

JUDGMENT

The accused in this special review were handed the following sentence by the presiding Magistrate after a plea of guilty as charged:

“Accused 2 and 3 fined R 2000 (two thousand rand) or 6 (six) months imprisonment, of which 3 (three) months is suspended for a period of 3 (three) years on condition accused 2 and 3 are not convicted of possession of any unwrought precious metals within the period of suspension. In terms of Section 103 (2) of Act 60 of 2000 accused 2 and 3 are not declared unfit to possess a firearm.”

The Magistrate sent this on special review as the sentence clearly did not reflect his intention to impose a sentence that would act as a deterrent. The correct sentence imposed was:

“Accused 2 and 3 are fined R 2000 (two thousand rand) or 3 (three) months imprisonment and a further 3 (three) months imprisonment, suspended for a period of 3 (three) years on condition accused 2 and 3 are not convicted of possession of any unwrought precious metals within the period of suspension. In terms of Section 103 (2) of Act 60 of 2000 accused 2 and 3 not declared unfit to possess a firearm.”

I agree with the Magistrate’s reasoning. The sentence imposed was clearly an error. The substituted sentence reflects his intention and is accordingly imposed in place of the sentence actually handed down.
